LOVING FRIENDS,

Having taken the Shop that late Benjamin Clark's and bought off his stock, have thought it not inconvenient, to publish a Catalogue of some Friends Books of which I have many remaining unsold, and some that I have Printed since for you; so that those that are unprovided may be furnished with them, desiring which way I may send to them, and likewise that Friends would be considerate of a publick way to disperse their Books, in order to the easing of me, which on the contrary undoubtedly will be a great loss to me, is all requested of your Friend who is ready to serve you,
